

Food + Drink

The Best Places To Eat And Drink In London Now

By: Sarah Leigh Bannerman

Jul 20, 21

SHARE

Summer is here, London is open again, and we're ready to celebrate.

From spacious outdoor terraces to intimate fine dining destinations, consider these some of the most worthy F&B bucket-list destinations in the British capital.

2.

The Surprise, Chelsea

Newly independent and revived with interiors by ex-Firmdale Hotel stylist Isabella Worsley, The Surprise is a charismatic addition to the West London pub scene. The menu is traditionally British and includes seafood and steak dishes, as well as small starter plates that span everything from burrata to sardines. No meal is complete without a sweet end note – turn to their dessert menu, where the chocolate and coffee marquise is the star of the show. Combined with a homely aesthetic and stay-all-day atmosphere, you might just feel as though you're in the comfort of a friend's beautiful country home while lunching at this SW3 posting.

Location: 6 Christchurch Terrace, SW3 4AJ

Tel.: 020 3837 4600

Instagram: [@thesurprisechelsea](https://www.instagram.com/the Surprise Chelsea)

BOOK NOW