

Lifestyle > Food & Drink >

Where to eat and drink during Chelsea Flower Show

All around the blooming borough, bars and restaurants are getting in the spirit of Chelsea Flower Show. These are the spots to know

Words: Aobh O'Brien-Moody.

Each May sees the transformation of the Royal Chelsea Hospital into a luscious Eden, as the annual Chelsea Flower Show takes over, pleasing seasoned greenfingers and aspiring gardeners with incredible garden designs and cutting edge floral displays. But the excitement isn't just limited to the confines of the show. All around the royal borough, bars and restaurants are getting in the spirit, offering seasonal menus with flower-adorned dishes and botanical-inspired cocktails. Whether you're after a pit-stop before or after your visit to Chelsea Flower Show, or missed out on tickets but still want to get your floral fix, these are the best places to eat and drink in the neighbourhood.

The Cadogan Arms

The Surprise is beloved year-round for its cosy atmosphere and top-notch pub grub. But come Chelsea Flower Show, there's even more reason to visit. A seasonal menu, available exclusively from 20th to 24th May, features specials like Puglian burrata served with Wye Valley asparagus, Cornish garlic butter lobster, and a limited-edition Moatwood Meadow spritz, infused with botanicals and garnished with edible blooms.

Here's what else to do in the capital this month...

Further reading

THE DIARY – 4 DAYS AGO

The Diary: Gentleman's Journal x Star Hill Farm Whisky Dinner

FOOD & DRINK – 12 DAYS AGO

How Double Dutch built a global mixers brand with serious spirit